

AWG Book Club Report: The Seekers

Report by ISHRAT

Members of the morning Wave Book Club held their meeting on 9 January, 2012 at Gaby Rotandaro's beautiful home at Mawalah, showered by lovely Panamanian hospitality. It was our first book club meeting of the New Year. The other two, the Evening and (morning) MQ Book Clubs are heading towards their book discussions of the month.

The Wave Book Club read and discussed the book The Crimson Room by Katharine McMahon. They chose a Spanish author this time: The Shadow of the Wind (La Sombra del Viento) by Carlos Ruiz Zafon and translated by Lucia Graves. This book choice is very good news for Spanish-speaking Belinda Quiroz, who will host the next meeting; after all, she can read it in the original form.

Contact ISHRAT at ishrat.awg@gmail.com if you want to join any of our book clubs.